AWU SAFETY UPDATE: CORONAVIRUS

6th February 2020

We know that AWU members in ports and terminals across Queensland are at the frontline of potential exposure to coronavirus.

Making sure AWU members are safe at work is our number one priority.

We've written to employers to make it clear we expect every single AWU member has access to a safe workplace free from any risk of infection.

We've also called on them to detail exactly what steps are being taken to protect workers from harm or infection.

AWU officials have also been in close contact with the Queensland Government to discuss prevention measures and are monitoring all updates relating to worker health and safety.

REMEMBER: IF YOUR HEALTH AND SAFETY IS PUT AT IMMINENT RISK AT WORK, YOU CAN SAY NO TO WORK.

If you need any additional assistance or support, please make sure to contact your AWU Organiser or Delegate.
